You’re off to Great Places! Today is your day! Your mountain is waiting, So... get on your way!”
—Dr. Seuss, Oh, The Places You’ll Go!

We can’t wait to see where the future takes you, PharmDawgs!
Dear Class of 2019,

What a privilege it has been to go on this journey with you all at the finest institution in the land! We are certain that each one of you has been counting down the days – probably to the hour – of our finish and the moment we walk across the stage to be hooded. Well, the time has finally arrived and we did it – we are graduates! One thing we are confident about is that each one of us has a unique story. We have all taken different steps to arrive at this momentous occasion, coming from diverse backgrounds, and yet, together, we are one class. We will most certainly be remembered as the class who helped lay the foundation for future PharmDawgs by fine tuning the newest version of the Pharm.D curriculum. “Guinea pigs” they called us, but you know what? We conquered it together!

Now, it would be remiss to not call to mind the successes we have both participated in and witnessed from our class. Many of us have presented posters at well-known professional meetings and worked on research projects, served as leaders in organizations, and perhaps even won an award or two along the way. All of these things are valuable contributions to science, our careers, and the world of pharmacy. We are surrounded by stellar work on a daily basis and that is something to be proud of. And not to mention that the majority, if not all of us, held a job during our four years. We are the only healthcare students who are expected to work while in school, and this is something to certainly be congratulated on. Continue to do great things, Class of 2019, and continue to pursue excellence.

Lastly, we hope each of you take time to do the following: 1) Stop and smell the roses. Look around, see the beauty in life in both the people and places around you. Find a piece of calm and cling to it. 2) Tell someone you are grateful for them. Allow them to share in your elation and your sorrow. Build a relationship that matters. 3) Be uncomfortable. Seek adventure. Try something new. Be bold like we know you are but above all else: have courage and be kind.

Serving the Class of 2019 has been one of the highlights of our time at the University of Georgia. Working with you all has been an honor, and being able to take away lasting friendships with some of the finest pharmacy leaders is a tremendous gift. So, THANK YOU for filling our education with excitement and triumph. THANK YOU for the memories; the laughs, the tears, and the spectrum of emotion that spans the space in between. We have journeyed such a long way as a class and now it’s time to celebrate our accomplishments. We look forward to seeing the impact you all make across all realms of pharmacy, and we wish you the best as we transition to careers, residencies, and most importantly, the next stage of life. Sometimes different roads lead to the same castle.

Sincerely and Go DAWGS!

FROM THE DEAN

Dear Members of the Class of 2019:

Your time as a University of Georgia College of Pharmacy student will soon be a memory.

I hope the memories you created while you were here have been good ones for you. No doubt, you’ve had plenty of wonderful moments that will remain with you throughout your life – moments of success, pride, fellowship, camaraderie, collaboration, friendship, and a whole lot of laughter. Certainly, you’ve had your share of challenges, too. But the good times – these happy memories – are what I encourage you to remember from your College of Pharmacy experience. These are memories to cherish.

This Georgia Pharmacist magazine is nothing but a book of rich memories. Because as you sift through the pages, you will find it's filled with faces – faces of people, such as faculty, staff and fellow students, who have left their indelible mark on your scholastic journey. You were never alone while you were at the College of Pharmacy. These faces were with you, each in their own unique way, throughout these last four years. It is the memory of these faces that is your ultimate “take-away” from your College of Pharmacy experience. And it is these faces that you will come to see when you travel back to your collegiate home.

Now, it is time to make new memories – just at a different destination. Whether you are continuing your training in a residency program; taking on the role of a pharmacist in a community pharmacy, hospital or clinic; enrolling in graduate school; or even if you aren’t quite sure of where you’re headed, you are venturing out to blaze new trails, make new discoveries, form new relationships, and create new and lasting moments in time. Relish this new adventure, but never forget what this college has meant to you. And remember! Once a PharmDawg, always a PharmDawg! We can now call you “alumnus.” We will always call you “friend.”

Your journey of learning has truly only just begun. Meet your future with purpose, determination and a plethora of great memories.

May you always be learning,

Kelly M. Smith, Dean

University of Georgia College of Pharmacy
The Class of 2019 has spoken, and they bestow the honor of the Georgia Pharmacist dedication on Professor Emeritus Dr. George Francisco.

Earlier this year, Dr. Francisco retired after serving the College of Pharmacy for more than 35 years, the last 30 as the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. His absence is loud and noticeable. No one will deny that he will go down in PharmDawg history as one of the most beloved individuals in the college. Fellow 2019 classmate, Phil Gardner, expressed the feelings of his classmates. “It was obvious how much Dr. Francisco cared for his students. He always made time for us, whether it was to explain difficult concepts, help plan career paths, discuss school concerns, talk about life, or simply laugh.”

Certainly, you can picture him – walking the halls with an eagerness and willingness to help anyone who sought his wisdom and support. Always “the epitome of professionalism” and “someone who was always smiling, approachable and genuinely concerned,” he worked tirelessly to make the students’ pharmacy education experience as positive as possible. And, he was just as committed to the faculty and staff who called him “colleague” “leader” and “friend” – and still do to this day.

His career was nothing short of remarkable. Dr. Francisco received his Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, in 1976. At the University of Kentucky, he earned his Doctor of Pharmacy degree and completed an ASHP-accredited residency. In his first professional position, he served as an Assistant Professor at UGA and was later promoted to Associate Professor, earned tenure, and received numerous awards, such as Outstanding Teacher and Outstanding Young Men of America. For a short time, Dr. Francisco left UGA to serve as an Associate Professor and Area Health Education Center Pharmacy Coordinator at the Medical College of Virginia. But he returned to UGA – in 1989 – to accept the position of Associate Dean.

During his tenure at UGA, he’s received more accolades than can be listed. A pillar within the college and in the university community, he mentored hundreds, if not thousands, of students, faculty and staff throughout his career. As a mentor in the fullest sense of the word, he laid a foundation for lifelong success by sparking in each person the intelligence, determination and passion the pharmacy profession requires.

Fellow 2019 classmate, Seth Garner, summed up the feeling of his classmates. “Dr. Francisco was not only a wonderful faculty member at the College of Pharmacy, but he was – and continues to be – a role model to all of us who walked through his doors. He is caring, thoughtful, and willing to set all things aside to help students. The class of 2019 would not be who we are today, if it was not for Dr. Francisco.”

For members of the Class of 2019, his spirit will always be felt, regardless of where their pharmacy journey takes them.
CLUBS
The Academy of Managed Care Pharmacy, AMCP, is a student organization that encourages pharmacy students to explore nontraditional pharmacy careers, such as those in managed care and the pharmaceutical industry. Throughout the year, the UGA chapter had guest speakers come in and speak about their various professions. AMCP also presented a unique topic at Pharmtoberfest, discussing pharmacogenetic testing and insurance coverage. Additionally this year, we had three teams of pharmacy students participate in the local Pharmacy and Therapeutics competition while one team was selected to participate in the national AMCP Pharmacy and Therapeutics competition. Lastly, AMCP collaborated with IPhO to host the first ever Industry and Managed Care Roundtable Networking Dinner. Representatives from companies, such as Express Scripts, Otsuka, Boehringer Ingelheim, Theravance and Biopharma, sat down with students to discuss their careers. The students learned a lot from this event, and we hope to continue this event every year.
The American Pharmacists Association–Academy of Student Pharmacists (APhA–ASP) is proud to be the largest student organization at the University of Georgia College of Pharmacy. Our mission is to be the “collective voice of student pharmacists, to provide opportunities for professional growth, and to envision and actively promote the future of pharmacy.” At the College of Pharmacy, APhA–ASP plays a key role in helping students navigate through pharmacy school, advocate for the pharmacy profession, explore careers in pharmacy, and connect with student pharmacists and pharmacists nationwide. Members are able to network locally with the Georgia Pharmacy Association (GPhA) as well as nationally with the American Pharmacists Association (APhA). Our members experience a variety of benefits including professional development resources, career guidance, networking opportunities, leadership development, and study resources for national board exams. Our APhA–ASP chapter organizes several health fairs and patient care events throughout the year and sends members to local, state, and national conferences.

This year, we organized our annual campus wide health fair Pharmitoberfest to celebrate American Pharmacists Month. Each student organization in the College of Pharmacy provided health education on various topics and APhA–ASP members conducted blood pressure, blood glucose, and BMI screenings. Flu vaccines were also provided by student pharmacists in collaboration with the University Health Center. This year’s event experienced record patient care numbers with over 80 screenings conducted and 150+ flu shots administered. In addition, we continued our tradition of hosting a health fair at Pine Wood Estates North neighborhood and Multicultural Health Fair at the Pendergrass Flea Market. These outreach opportunities primarily targeted underserved and underinsured communities by offering free blood pressure, blood glucose, and BMI screenings as well as health education based on patient results. APhA–ASP was also able to partner with a local Athens organization, Live Forward, to provide free HIV screenings at both Pine Woods and Multicultural Health Fairs. Furthermore, each operation within APhA–ASP (Operation Heart, Operation Immunization, Operation Diabetes, OTC Medicine Safety, Generation Rx) hosted various events such as community blood pressure screenings, medication safety education for elementary students, a college wide naloxone training, smoking cessation classes, women’s health campaigns, and health presentation events. Students spoke to legislators at the Capitol with guidance from GPhA for Pharmacy Day at the Dome, competed in our local Patient Counseling Competition, and listened to speakers in various realms of pharmacy each Tuesday. Members attended the APhA Institute on Alcoholism and Drug Dependencies in Salt Lake City, Utah; the Georgia Pharmacy Convention in Nashville, TN; the APhA–ASP Summer Leadership Institute in Washington, D.C.; the APhA–ASP Region 3 Midyear Regional Meeting in Memphis, TN; the APhA Annual Meeting and Exposition in Seattle, WA; and various GPhA Regional Legislative Briefings around the state.

APhA–ASP chapters from schools nationwide represent over 36,000 student pharmacists. On an even larger scale, APhA–ASP is one of the three academies of The American Pharmacists Association, which is the largest pharmacy association in the country, representing over 60,000 members across all areas of pharmacy practice. By joining APhA–ASP, members are taking the first step in becoming actively involved with an organization that will represent them throughout their entire pharmacy career, whether it is retail, hospital, industry, or any other specialty in pharmacy. Each year we work to better ourselves as student pharmacists, serve our future patients through providing the highest quality of care, and lay a strong foundation for our future in pharmacy.
The Christian Pharmacists Fellowship International is an interdenominational ministry of individuals working in all areas of pharmaceutical service and practice. The mission of CPFI is to bring about spiritual growth and the advancement of knowledge and ethics in the service and practice of pharmacy by providing the resources, tools and expertise necessary to challenge, encourage and promote the integration of Christian principles and standards within that practice.
At UGA, the College of Psychiatric and Neurologic Pharmacists, or CPNP, works to combat the stigma surrounding mental health by encouraging its members to challenge stereotypes and prejudices. As future health care professionals, we aim to remind one another to approach every person, patient, and peer with medication expertise, professionalism, and empathy.
The Dean’s Student Advisory Council is a group of student leaders who serve as a resource to the Dean to assure that all needs of the organizations within the College of Pharmacy are met. DSAC members work with the Dean for the enhancement of the College of Pharmacy, its programs, and the profession of pharmacy. Furthermore, the Council serves as the voice of the student body and provides a link to the administration. The presidents and vice presidents (or equivalents) of student organizations in the College as well as the president, vice-president, and/or class representatives from each professional year, comprise the membership of DSAC.
The Georgia Society of Health-System Pharmacists of Georgia is an officially recognized student society of the American Society of Health-System Pharmacists, which aims to provide student pharmacists with opportunities to gain further insight into health-system pharmacy through networking events, patient advocacy, and volunteer opportunities. Each fall, we hold a residency roundtable networking dinner featuring program directors and residents throughout Georgia who discuss their residency program offerings with students and what makes each one unique. This event affords students the chance to learn more about residencies from experts in a comfortable setting to better determine how a residency will aid in their career development. Each spring, GSHP holds a curriculum vitae workshop, in which students are presented with an overview of what should be included in a CV and given individualized document review with UGA faculty members. This year, we hosted our first ever Practice Advancement Initiative (PAI) Week. This was a week full of events aimed at helping student pharmacists better understand the profession and come up with ways to enhance our practice as pharmacists in the healthcare team.

GSHP also offers a unique opportunity in collaboration with St. Mary’s Health System, allowing members to deliver medication education to discharged patients with the hospital’s Cardiac Rehabilitation Program. Students educate patients on their medications, discuss possible drug interactions, and provide counseling to increase patient adherence. This year, a new Medication Access program was implemented through St. Mary’s, which allowed P3 students to work with hospital patients. GSHP also offers numerous speakers representing health-systems throughout the state and across the country. Additionally, we work in collaboration with our state GSHP affiliate to plan and attend regional meetings.
The UGA Chapter of the Industry Pharmacists Organization (IPhO) is focused on advancing the careers of aspiring industry pharmacists. This is achieved by providing members resources, networking events, and access to opportunities and representatives in the industry. Throughout the year, we arranged for numerous professionals in different areas of the pharmaceutical industry to give presentations to our members on their careers and similar career options for pharmacists. National members were invited to partake in webinars, which covered fellowship positions and how to best prepare for post-graduate industry pathways. Our greatest accomplishment of the semester was our joint venture with AMCP. We were able to recruit eight professionals in pharmaceutical industry and managed care for a round-table networking event. The event proved to be incredibly successful with both students and representatives equally able to share and ask questions regarding their respective fields of interest. Going forward, we believe that IPhO will continue to have a place at UGA, because this is an area of pharmacy in which students have demonstrated a strong interest in growth for our school and its curriculum, and we hope that it will help to better prepare students for successful careers within industry pharmacy.
Kappa Psi at the University of Georgia is a pharmaceutical fraternity that is committed to the development and success of its brothers. Through strong brotherhood, involvement, leadership development, and networking, we strive to develop more competent and prepared brothers. This past year was full of accomplishments and achievements, which included the induction of nine new brothers into the chapter. Through various philanthropy events, we raised money for non-profit organizations, such as the Mercy Health Clinic and Extra Special People. A major accomplishment during this academic year was the formation of a partnership with Live Forward, a non-profit organization which performs HIV screening and counseling. As brothers of Kappa Psi Fraternity Inc., we will continue our service to the community and the development of leaders.
Lambda Kappa Sigma is a professional fraternity that provides lifelong opportunities for women in pharmacy. At the University of Georgia, the Alpha Kappa Chapter was established in 1958 to promote professional achievement and personal growth to women pharmacy students. Throughout the past year, LKS actively participated in service projects, including sponsoring an “In Their Shoes” team, which benefits the Loran Smith Center for Cancer Support at Piedmont Athens Regional; hosting a Girl Scouts’ Day to help young women earn their first aid badge; hosting a soup cook-off (Souper Bowl) and bake sale to benefit Project HOPE; and volunteering at the local food bank, Athens PB&J, and Campus Kitchen, a student powered hunger relief program to benefit the elderly and various service agencies throughout our community.

To continue to promote professional development, LKS hosted its annual Women in Pharmacy Networking Night, which provided an opportunity for female pharmacy students to network with women in pharmacy in the area. LKS also presented a poster at the annual UGA College of Pharmacy health fair (Pharmtoberfest) on this biennial’s Women’s Health Initiative, which was Pregnancy and Reproductive Health. We also were able to celebrate the first ever Women’s Pharmacist Day on October 12th. We created a video that got over 14,000 views! In addition to promoting community service and professional development, this year LKS hosted a Casino Night, Self-Defense class, Thanksgiving Potluck, and Apothecary Ball to promote social development and fellowship within our chapter.

The Alpha Kappa chapter has grown so much during the past year, and we are excited to see what this next year will bring!
National Community Pharmacists Association (NCPA) represents community pharmacists, including owners of thousands of pharmacies nationwide. Our mission as the UGA student chapter is to encourage, foster, and recognize an interest in community pharmacy ownership and entrepreneurship among the future leaders of the profession and to provide a forum for students to learn about the many career opportunities available in independent pharmacy practice. During the course of the 2018-19 academic year, our student chapter offered many ways to get involved, including visits to independent pharmacies, networking opportunities, and community service events.

This fall, 10 of our members traveled to Boston, Massachusetts for NCPA’s annual national convention. One of our teams participated in the Business Plan Competition and scored in the top ten. Locally, members attended the annual Pharmtoberfest, where we presented a poster to educate fellow students and faculty members on proper sleep hygiene. We made two visits to Barney’s Pharmacy in Augusta, once to volunteer at their annual health fair, and then for a site visit to learn more about the unique pharmacy. During one of our chapter meetings, alumni Tina and Patrick Chancy spoke to our members about independent pharmacy ownership and community residencies.

During the spring semester, we collaborated with other organizations within the college. Our chapter partnered with SNPhA to visit Village Drug Shop at Advantage, an independent pharmacy which specializes in psychiatric medications and pharmacotherapy. We also partnered with Lambda Kappa Sigma to host a donation drive to benefit Safe Homes, a shelter for domestic violence victims and their children. Recently, we hosted our third annual Community IPPE Workshop, which helps to prepare our P1 students for their upcoming IPPE. We had two speakers present during our chapter meetings this semester. The first was Dr. Bindhu Batra, Director of Academic Affairs at the Professional Compounding Centers of America (PCCA), who informed us about the compounding classes PCCA offers to students. The second was alumni Dr. Jennifer Shannon who owns Lilly’s Pharmacy, which specializes in transitions of care. Our last event of the year was hosting NCPA’s Ownership Boot Camp, an event in which students spent an entire day learning from NCPA headquarters speakers about various aspects of pharmacy ownership. Prior to this event, we are offered a networking opportunity for alumni and students.
Phi Delta Chi is a national coeducational pharmaceutical fraternity and the oldest fraternity dedicated solely to the practice of pharmacy. Phi Delta Chi was founded at the University of Michigan School of Pharmacy on November 2, 1883, and currently has 89 collegiate chapters nationwide. The Alpha Iota Chapter at the University of Georgia was chartered in 1937 with the help of former Dean of Pharmacy, R.C. Wilson. Alpha Iota is the oldest pharmacy fraternity within the college as well as within the state. As busy as the members are, we never forget our motto “Alterum Alterius Auxilio Eget” or “Each Needs the Help of the Other.” The successes of our Chapter come from our members, whether they are active, alumni, advisors or faculty, and the relationships they have formed with each other.
Phi Lambda Sigma was founded in 1965 at Auburn University School of Pharmacy to honor leadership selected by peer recognition. For a student to be eligible for membership, he or she shall be of high moral and ethical character, shall have successfully completed at least one professional year of scholastic work applicable toward a recognized pharmacy degree, and shall have a cumulative grade point average of 2.50 on a 4.00 grade scale. Prospective members are selected on the basis of their demonstration of dedication, service and leadership in the advancement of pharmacy. The national Pharmacy Leadership Society promotes the development of leadership qualities, especially among pharmacy students.
The Rho Chi Society is a national honor society established to recognize and reward outstanding scholarly attainment, thereby encouraging and stimulating outstanding scholarship. Our mission is to encourage and recognize intellectual achievement, stimulate critical inquiry to advance pharmacy, contribute to the development of intellectual leaders, promote the highest ethical standards and foster collaboration.

Since 1949, when the Alpha Kappa chapter was established at the University of Georgia College of Pharmacy, our members have been committed to seeking advances in pharmacy through sustained intellectual leadership. Membership in the Rho Chi Society is a privilege accorded to the very few who distinguish themselves by their academic and professional achievements. Students who aspire to the mission and vision of the Alpha Kappa chapter must have a grade point average that places them in the top twentieth percentile of their class. Furthermore, all nominees should be of high moral and ethical character to be eligible for initiation into the Society.

Membership in the Rho Chi Society allows students the opportunity to apply for scholarships and awards, attend national conferences, and network with other distinguished students and pharmacists from all over the country. Our students serve as mentors and role models within the College of Pharmacy, and our chapter hosts several events throughout the year intended to prepare students for required components of the first-year curriculum. Additionally, we aim to foster collaboration with other student organizations and work closely with Phi Lambda Sigma to host an event featuring a panel of UGA graduates pursuing post-graduate residency training.

A very special thanks to our advisor, Dr. Lori Duke, for her support and involvement in the organization.
The Student College of Clinical Pharmacy (SCCP) exists to help students understand the field of clinical pharmacy by providing information about careers and opportunities within the field. We also advocate for the role of clinical pharmacists in providing direct patient care and promote dedication to patient care, research, education, and professional development. The group serves as the connection between the national organization, American College of Clinical Pharmacy (ACCP), and students. This year, SCCP participated in Pharmtoberfest in which we presented myths and facts about the current opioid epidemic. We had many guest speakers present during organization hours, including a postgraduate year 2 ambulatory care resident and a critical care pharmacist. We released more issues of our newsletter, Student Clinical Digest, in which we had spotlights on some of our faculty and an emergency medicine pharmacist. We hosted a college-wide Clinical Research Challenge sponsored by ACCP in which the students who participated got the chance to showcase their clinical skills by analyzing a piece of primary literature and answering questions about it. Thank you to all the members who helped with Pharmtoberfest, the newsletter, and everything else we were able to accomplish this year! We look forward to what is to come next year.
Student Diabetes Club (SDC) is one of the newer organizations at the College of Pharmacy. This year, our mission was to encourage pharmacy students to become more clinically oriented to diabetes care through education and community outreach. We further encouraged students to create more opportunities for all of the pharmacy student body and initiate new fundraising campaigns that would increase our capabilities as an organization and prompt future leaders to provide a change in community diabetes care. Throughout the year, we hosted a number of involvement opportunities, such as editor positions for our biannual Diabetes in Focus newsletter, poster preparation and presentation roles at Pharmtoberfest and allowed students to host diabetes educational classes at Augusta University. Our student leaders also carried out a wonderful fundraising idea of making College of Pharmacy tumblers that we hope to continue next year. Moving forward, our new leaders have presented exciting ideas for organization growth that will consist of collaboration with other organizations and clinical settings in the community.
The mission and purpose of the Student National Pharmaceutical Association (SNPhA) is to use our background and skills in pharmacy practice to serve the underserved and promote our profession. We are incredibly fortunate to have members, leaders, and advisors who are so passionate for service that we are never short of outreach opportunities. Our members recognize SNPhA as an opportunity to be a part of something bigger than ourselves. We are also a family that encourages and supports each other while providing opportunities for community service and educational growth. This year we hosted a health fair for Women to the World and helped provide point of care testing and education to women, their children, and staff. Additionally, UGA SNPhA hosted the very first Pre-Pharmacy Day where we had over a hundred prospective pharmacy students as well as representatives from all pharmacy schools in the state. Students had the opportunity to learn about different pharmacy programs, how to perform sterile and non-sterile compounding, and attend workshops on how to be a more competitive applicant for pharmacy school. We organized a trip to the Center for Disease Control where students had the opportunity to network and learn more about the role of pharmacists in this unique and non-traditional career pathway. Additionally, SNPhA had students representing our school at the Shot @ Life Summit in Washington D.C. to advocate for global immunization. SNPhA students represented UGA on a national level by being one of five winners awarded the Prescription for Service grant to better our local community. These listed here were just a few, but our group has gone on to participate in and organize countless events and opportunities to better our community. “Strength in Purpose” is SNPhA’s theme for this year. The purpose of serving the underserved is what brings us together and it is from this passion that our group often draws our strength. Our organization and family represents our school on a local and national level by placing importance on Patients, Inclusion, Empowerment, Community, Education and Service. SNPhA is devoted to serving through student engagement in providing quality health and educational services to the Athens community.
Student Oncological Advocates of Pharmacy (SOAP) was founded in 2012 by UGA College of Pharmacy alumna, Dr. Michelle Borg. SOAP is dedicated to promoting awareness for all cancers, supporting cancer patients and survivors, and providing opportunities for students interested in oncology. SOAP hopes to garner support for oncological research and unite those who are affected by cancer through advocacy, education, and community involvement. SOAP participates in the COP’s annual health fair, Pharmtoberfest, every October. During this year’s event, SOAP held a bone marrow donor registration drive at Pharmtoberfest through DKMS and provided education about breast cancer awareness and prevention. Each fall, SOAP members volunteer at the Free to Breathe 5K, which raises awareness and support for the Lung Cancer Foundation. This past December, SOAP members gave back to the community by making holiday cards for pediatric cancer patients being treated at Children Healthcare of Atlanta and donated Christmas gifts to the Loran Smith Center. Each February, SOAP participates in a national “Stand Up to Cancer” movement by hosting a World Cancer Day event at CoP. This year, we were recognized for our efforts by University of Georgia’s Grady Newsource. In April, SOAP participates in UGA Relay for Life. Fundraising for Relay for Life, Winship Cancer Institute at Emory University, and Children’s Miracle Network through UGA Miracle is done throughout the year. At the second annual “Pillympics” fundraiser event for Winship, students and faculty members at the COP competed in three events to claim the title of Pillympics Champions. In addition to raising monetary funds, SOAP made goodie bags and delivered them to cancer patients at Winship during SOAP’s annual visit; additionally, during this visit, SOAP members met with current oncology pharmacists and residents and took a tour of Winship facilities.

Throughout the year, SOAP holds various general body meetings that aim to educate SOAP members on oncology through presentations given by various speakers and professors. This past year, we had the honor of hosting Dr. Katherine Saunders from Augusta University Medical Center, Dr. Kori Daniels, PGY2 Oncology Resident, and a panel of cancer survivors from the CoP, including Ms. Mickey Montevideo, Ms. Janet Fowler, Dr. Vivia Hill-Silcott and Dr. Michelle McElhannon. During the year, SOAP creates opportunities for our members to educate one another through journal clubs and the bi-annual publication of the Oncology Bulletin newsletter. Dr. Amber Clemmons serves as the editor of this student publication.
The Mission of the RxPups Student Society of Pediatric Advocates (RxPups-SSPA) is to bring awareness to the proper use of medication therapy in pediatric populations through various service and education-based initiatives. Service activities center around lending our medication-based knowledge to pediatric patients and their parents in our community. Educational activities are directed toward student members in an effort to safely and effectively extend pharmacy practice to pediatric populations by building relationships with mentors and professionals in the health care community, as well as supplementing didactic coursework with lectures by specialists and our peers. Overall, RxPups-SSPA advocates for the safety and happiness of young patients while learning and having fun along the way.
