Dean's Student Advisory Council (DSAC) Presents

Meet the Organizations

What is DSAC?

by the DSAC Executive Board
Chair - Stephanie Watson
Vice Chair - Becca Bruning
Secretary - JJ Lee

The Dean's Student Advisory Council, or DSAC, is a collection of the student leaders from each organization as well as class representatives. Our mission is to act as a collective voice for the students at the College of Pharmacy.

In this newsletter, we invite you to explore the various opportunities each organization can present. While pharmacy school is an adjustment and challenging academically, we encourage you to be involved within the university and community. You may make some of your best friends and discover faculty mentors through organizational involvement.

We look forward to meeting you!
The Academy of Managed Care Pharmacy, AMCP, is a student organization that encourages pharmacy students to explore nontraditional pharmacy careers, such as those in managed care and the pharmaceutical industry. Managed care is a unique niche for pharmacists to play a role in developing and implementing medication therapy management (MTM) programs, design pharmacy benefits, and manage quality and cost effectiveness by working for health plans, pharmacy benefit management companies, and several other organizations. Throughout the year, our UGA chapter has had guest speakers come in, given a topic discussion on pharmacogenetic testing and insurance coverage during Pharmtoberfest, and had three teams of pharmacy students participate in the local Pharmacy and Therapeutics competition. Lastly, AMCP collaborated with IPHO to host a joint Roundtable Networking Dinner with representatives from companies, such as Express Scripts, Otsuka, and Boehringer Ingelheim. We hope to continue providing these learning and networking opportunities to our new members!

Our student chapter has offered many ways to get involved, including visits to independent pharmacies, networking opportunities, and community service events.

CPNP

College of Psychiatric and Neurologic Pharmacists

At UGA, CPNP works to combat the stigma surrounding mental health by encouraging its members to challenge stereotypes and prejudices. As future health care professionals, we aim to remind one another to approach every person, patient, and peer with medication expertise, professionalism, and empathy. In addition to monthly Org Hour meetings, CPNP works on creating infographics on social media in a series called CPNP Factual, scheduling mental health breaks, and setting up various events and fundraisers throughout the year to spread awareness.

Some of our most recent mental health breaks include escape rooms, pottery workshops, and rock climbing. Though CPNP is still a relatively new organization at UGA, we’ve been finding ways to stay active in the Athens community; recently, we began working closely with Extra Special People, Inc. This year, our goal is to present posters at the annual national CPNP meeting and to create a resource-packed periodical!

Our mission is to bring awareness to the proper use of medication therapy in pediatric populations through various service and education-based initiatives. We strive to grow our organization because it is important for all pharmacists to know about pediatric medicine, and how it can be different than adults. Pediatrics is not covered as in depth in our curriculum, so we provide more knowledge for students who want to learn more about pediatrics. We have many opportunities to learn more in our organization through Prestigious Presenters at general body meetings, residency panels, and even PediaNews, which is our newsletter that has gotten recognition from the FDA.
