

GEORGIA STRONG

---

DAWG STRONG

Dear Faculty, Staff & Students:

We anxiously anticipate your return – or arrival – to campus! It is hard to believe that the PharmDawg Nation has not been physically together since mid-March. However, our spirit has remained strong and united during these last several months. I appreciate everyone's cooperation, support, and flexibility as we have navigated...and will continue to navigate...these uncharted waters.

Whether you are faculty, staff, or student returning or arriving to our Athens campus or one of our extended campuses, your health and safety are paramount to our operations. As you have read in our twice-weekly newsletters, the Brief, we are making several provisions to assure that the College of Pharmacy provides an optimum environment. Please watch this brief video in which I outline some of the measures we have taken to assure your safety, along with some tips that will allow for your good health.

We will continue to provide you with updates on steps we are taking to assure your safe return. In the meantime, please feel free to contact your unit supervisor or department head if you have questions or concerns. Again, I am grateful to everyone, and I can't wait to see you!

Stay Safe, Healthy, and PharmDawg Strong!

Kelly M. Smith

Kelly M. Smith, Dean
UGA College of Pharmacy

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA
College of Pharmacy

